Commentary

The Fund invests in a balanced portfolio of Orbis' equity and absolute return funds. Within equities, the Fund is very overweight Japan and other Asian equities and very underweight the USA. During the last 12 months, Asian equities have substantially outperformed US equities and this together with fundamentally driven share selection drove the Fund's outperformance of its benchmark. While Asian equities are still expected to outperform over the long-term, the near-term correction we are experiencing is not surprising given the large increases in their prices over the last year. The Fund continues to hold an overweight position in Asian equities and given their long-term attractiveness, has a direct exposure to non-Japanese Asian equities.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accrual and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from Allan Gray Unit Trust Management Limited. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs. Forward pricing is used. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. A fund of funds unit trust only invests in other unit trusts, which levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure for these portfolios. All of the unit trusts may be capped at any time in order for them to be managed in accordance with their mandates. Member of the ACI
