Fund Characteristics

This is a rand-denominated low risk offshore fund that invests in a mix of the Orbis Optimal SA funds which seek capital appreciation in their respective currencies. Orbis is Allan Gray's global asset management partner. The Fund was launched to cater for rand investors seeking capital appreciation in major foreign currencies on a low risk global portfolio. Returns are intended to be largely the return on cash, plus whatever value Orbis can add from its stock-picking ability. The underlying Orbis Optimal SA funds invest in a focused portfolio of selected global equities believed to offer superior relative value, and employ stock market hedging to reduce the risk of loss. The Fund's returns are largely independent of the returns of major asset classes such as cash, equities and bonds.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Declarations of income accruals are made annually. Purchase and redemption requests must be received by the manager by 14:00 each business day and fund valuations take place at approximately 16:00 each business day. Forward pricing is therefore used. Performance figures are from Allan Gray Limited (GIPS compliant) and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested. A fund of funds unit trust may only invest in other unit trusts, which levy their own charges, that could result in a higher fee structure for these portfolios. Permissible deductions may include management fees, brokerage, STT, auditor's fees, bank charges and trustee fees. Fluctuations and movements in exchange rates may also cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. The Fund may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio to bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the manager. No commissions or incentives are paid. The Fund may be closed to new investments at any time in order to be managed in accordance with its mandate. The manager is a member of the Association for Savings & Investment SA (ASISA).
