

ALLAN GRAY AFRICA EX-SA EQUITY FUND

Fund managers: Andrew Lapping, Nick Ndiritu Inception date: 1 January 2012 Registration number: 45930

Fund description and summary of investment policy

The Fund invests in a focused portfolio of companies with significant business interests in Africa (excluding South Africa), regardless of the location of the stock exchange listing. The Fund price is reported in US dollars, but the underlying holdings are denominated in various currencies. Returns are likely to be volatile.

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to outperform African equity markets over the long term without taking on greater risk of loss. The Fund's benchmark is the Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index. The Fund does not seek to mirror the benchmark but instead may deviate meaningfully from this performance benchmark in pursuit of superior returns. To the extent that its investments differ from those in the benchmark, the Fund faces the risk of underperforming the benchmark.

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

We invest in shares that we believe offer superior fundamental value while taking into account risk and return. We research companies and assess their intrinsic value based on long-term fundamentals; we then invest in businesses where our assessment of intrinsic value exceeds the share price by a margin of safety. This approach allows us to identify shares that may be out of favour with the market because of poor near-term prospects, but offer good value over the long-term. The Fund's holdings will deviate meaningfully from those in the index both in terms of individual holdings and sector exposure.

Suitable for those investors who

- Seek exposure to African equities
- Are comfortable with stock market and currency fluctuations
- Are prepared to take on the risk of capital loss
- Typically have an investment horizon of more than five years

Meeting the Fund objective

The Fund aims to outperform African equity markets (excluding South Africa) over the long term without taking on greater risk of loss. The Fund experiences periods of underperformance in pursuit of this objective. As the Fund is less than five years old it is too early to tell if it has met its objective. However, since inception the Fund has outperformed its benchmark and we are confident that the Fund will meet its objective over the long term.

Income distributions for the last 12 months

The Fund has not distributed income in the last 12 months.

Annual management fee

The management fee consists of a fixed fee and a performance fee component. The fixed fee is charged at a rate of 1% per year. The performance fee is 20% of the extent to which the Fund outperforms the benchmark, after the fixed fee is deducted and subject to the Fund exceeding the 'high watermark'. The high watermark is the maximum ratio the Fund's net asset value per share, including distributions, has achieved relative to the benchmark since the Fund's inception.

Total expense ratio (TER)

The annual management fee charged is included in the TER. The TER is a measure of the actual expenses incurred by the Fund over a 12-month period. Since Fund returns are quoted after deduction of these expenses, the TER should not be deducted from the published returns.

Fund manager quarterly commentary as at 30 June 2015

The Fund generated negative returns for the quarter, mainly due to negative returns from one of our largest holdings, Zimbabwe's dominant mobile operator Econet Wireless, as well as two smaller positions, Zimbabwean platinum miner Zimplats and Ugandan energy distributor Umeme. We believe these companies are excellent businesses and the lower share prices present attractive buying opportunities.

Econet reported disappointing results for the year ended February 2015. The main disappointment was voice revenue, which was 22% lower in the second half than the same period in the previous year. Two factors led to the weaker revenue: a 5% excise duty on service revenue was introduced in September 2014 and a legislated tariff cut of 35% on 1 January 2015. Thanks to the weak economy there is very little price elasticity and revenues fell in line with tariffs. Voice revenue will fall further in FY2016 as the tariff cut rolls through the base. Econet's earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation (EBITDA) margin was also lower because of the lower voice revenue and rapidly growing Ecocash mobile money business – up 62% year on year – which is lower margin. Management at Econet is well aware of the issues, has a keen focus on costs and is looking to drive the ancillary revenue growth. The share is down 42% over the past year and 20% since the results. In our view, the bad news is discounted and the share is attractively priced despite the current tough economic conditions.

Zimplats, a subsidiary of Impala Platinum, is down 30% over the past year and 13% over the past month. The Zimplats business is structurally advantaged compared to South African platinum producers, as the platinum-bearing reef the company mines is shallow and wide relative to the South African reefs, enabling lower-cost, mechanised mining. The reef is also rich in nickel and copper by-products, which augment revenue. These factors make Zimplats a low-cost platinum producer. As a result, while the majority of the South African producers are making cash losses, Zimplats is generating cash. Because of cash constraints, the South African industry is not investing sufficiently to maintain production. In time, Zimplats should benefit as metal prices recover because of the declining South African production.

The Umeme distribution tariff is calculated using the company's dollar asset base so the value of the company should be calculated in dollars. However, the Ugandan shilling share price is unchanged in 2015 despite a 19% weakening of the shilling. This presents a clear opportunity.

The portfolio is little changed over the past quarter. The largest active changes are a reduction in our Centamin and Transglobe holdings.

Performance

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts or mutual funds) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of shares may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. Neither the Investment Manager, the Fund nor the Representative provides any guarantee regarding the capital or the performance of the Fund. Performance figures are provided by the Investment Manager and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested. Actual investor performance may differ as a result of the investment date, the date of reinvestment and applicable taxes.

Benchmark data

The Fund's benchmark data is provided by Standard Bank Plc who require that we include the following legal note. The Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index is the proprietary information and registered trademark of Standard Bank Plc. All copyright subsisting in the Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index values and constituent lists vests in Standard Bank Plc. All their rights are reserved.

Share price

Share prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the Fund including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the Fund divided by the number of shares in issue. Forward pricing is used. The weekly price of the Fund is normally calculated each Friday. Purchase requests must be received by the Registrar of the Fund (being Citi Fund Services (Bermuda), Ltd.) by 17:00 Bermuda time on that dealing day to receive that week's price. Redemption requests must be received by the Registrar of the Fund by 12:00 Bermuda time, on the particular dealing day on which shares are to be redeemed to receive that week's price. Share prices are available on www.allangray.co.za.

Fees and charges

Permissible deductions from the Fund may include management fees, brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax (STT), auditor's fees, bank charges and custody fees. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Representative.

Total expense ratio (TER)

The total expense ratio (TER) is the percentage of the Fund's average assets under management that has been used to pay the Fund's actual expenses over the past year. The TER includes the annual management fees that have been charged (both the fee at benchmark and any performance component charged), trading costs (including brokerage, STT and investor protection levies where applicable), VAT and other expenses. Since Fund returns are quoted after deduction of these expenses, the TER should not be deducted from the published returns. As collective investment scheme expenses vary, the current TER cannot be used as an indication of future TERs. A higher TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. Instead, when investing, the investment objective of the Fund should be aligned with the investor's objective and compared against the performance of the Fund. The TER and other funds' TERs should then be used to evaluate whether the Fund performance offers value for money.

Foreign exposure

There are significant risks involved in investing in shares listed in the Fund's universe of emerging and developing countries including liquidity risks, sometimes aggravated by rapid and large outflows of 'hot money' and capital flight, concentration risk, currency risks, political and social instability, the possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation or nationalisation of assets and the establishment of foreign exchange controls which may include the suspension of the ability to transfer currency from a given country.

The Fund can use derivatives to manage its exposure to stock markets, currencies and/or interest rates and this exposes the Fund to contractual risk. Contractual risk includes the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction according to its terms and conditions because of a dispute over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide) or because of a credit or liquidity problem, causing the Fund to suffer a loss. Such contract counterparty risk is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. Borrowing, leveraging, and trading securities on margin will result in interest charges and, depending on the amount of trading activity, such charges could be substantial. The low margin deposits normally required in futures and forward trading, which the Fund may utilise, permit a high degree of leverage. As a result, a relatively small price movement in a futures or forward contract may result in immediate and substantial losses to the investor.
