COMMENTARY

Global stock markets are currently extremely volatile. The South African stock market is no exception. Despite the FTSE/JSE All Share Index plumbing a new low during the month, it closed at a similar level to its October close.

We continue to apply our philosophy of buying shares when they are trading at a discount to our assessment of their intrinsic value. Our assessment of the intrinsic value of a company will tend to be much more stable than the company's share price, as we try and look through economic cycles and take a long-term view when valuing the company.

We do not believe we have any special ability to make consistently accurate economic forecasts, but for what it is worth, we would not be unduly surprised if the performance of the global economy continues to disappoint in 2009. It may take a long time to work out the excesses of the credit bubble. However, somewhat paradoxically, we now see attractive value in equities, and the Fund has a relatively full equity exposure.

The Fund received its letters of allocation to subscribe to the Sappi share offer. Sappi will be using the proceeds of the share issue to buy a number of European paper mills from M-Real, in a transaction which may transform the previously unprofitable European paper industry. We view this as a positive development, but there are obviously some who disagree with us. The Fund bought additional rights to subscribe to the share issue at what we believe are very attractive prices.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio divided by the number of units in issue. Declaration of income accruals are made biannually. Purchase and redemption requests must be received by the manage by 14h00 each business day. Forny value of take place at approximately 16h00 each business day. Forward pricing is therefore used. Performance figures are from Allan Gray Limited (GIPS compliant) and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested. Permissible deductions may include management fees, brokerage, STT, auditor's fees, bank charges, trustee fees and RSC levies. The Fund may borrow up to 10% of the market value of the portfolio bridge insufficient liquidity. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the manager. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs. The fund may be closed to new investments at any time in order to be managed in accordance with its mandate. The manager is a member of the ACL Total Expense Ratio (TER). When investing, costs are only a part of an investment decision. The investment objective of the Fund should be compared with the investor's objective and then the performance figures and whether it represents value for money should be evaluated as part of the financial planning process. All Allan Gray performance figures and values are quoted after the deduction of costs incurred within the Fund should so the TER is not a new cost.
