Commentary

We continue to find reasonably broad based value within the market from a long-term perspective. We continue to reduce our holdings in selected industrial shares which have rerated significantly on the back of very strong earnings growth. We believe that in certain cases these companies' earnings are now above normal. We have used the proceeds to further increase our exposure to attractively priced banking shares. Financial shares now constitute 22% of the Fund. The resources sector has underperformed due to the continued strength of the Rand. While the Fund's weighting in resources is lower than the ALSI it is higher than that of the average general equity fund. This has impacted the short-term performance of the Fund compared to the average general equity fund. We believe that the Fund's resource holdings are offering very good value. For example the largest holding, Sasol, is trading on 8.5 times normalised earnings and a 5% dividend yield. This is very attractive for a better than average business.
