

Fund description and summary of investment policy

The Fund invests primarily in shares listed on the Johannesburg Stock Exchange (JSE). The Fund can invest a maximum of 30% offshore, with an additional 10% allowed for investments in Africa outside of South Africa. The Fund invests the bulk of its foreign allowance in equity funds managed by Orbis Investment Management Limited, our offshore investment partner. The Fund is typically fully invested in shares. Returns are likely to be volatile, especially over short- and medium-term periods.

ASISA unit trust category: South African – Equity – General

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to create long-term wealth for investors. It aims to outperform the average return of South African General Equity Funds over the long term, without taking on greater risk of loss. To pursue its objective the Fund's portfolio may differ materially from those of its peers. This will result in the Fund underperforming its benchmark materially at times. The Fund aims to compensate for these periods of underperformance by delivering outperformance over the long term. The Fund's benchmark is the market value-weighted average return of funds in the South African – Equity – General category (excluding Allan Gray funds).

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

We seek to buy shares offering the best relative value while maintaining a diversified portfolio. We thoroughly research companies to assess their intrinsic value from a long-term perspective. This long-term perspective enables us to buy shares from sellers who over-react to short-term difficulties or undervalue long-term potential. We invest in a selection of shares across all sectors of the stock market, and across the range of large, mid and smaller cap shares.

Suitable for those investors who

- Seek exposure to listed equities to provide long-term capital growth
- Are comfortable with stock market fluctuation, i.e. short- to medium-term volatility
- Are prepared to accept the risk of capital loss
- Typically have an investment horizon of more than five years
- Wish to use the Fund as an equity 'building block' in a diversified multi-asset class portfolio

Minimum investment amounts

Minimum lump sum per investor account	R20 000
Additional lump sum	R500
Minimum debit order*	R500

*Only available to investors with a South African bank account.

Meeting the Fund objective

The Fund has created wealth for its long-term investors. Since inception and over the latest 10 years, the Fund has outperformed its benchmark. Over the latest five-year period the Fund has underperformed its benchmark. The Fund experiences periods of underperformance in pursuit of its objective of creating long-term wealth for investors, without taking on greater risk of loss than the average equity fund. The maximum drawdown and lowest annual return numbers, in the 'Performance net of all fees and expenses' table, show that the Fund has successfully reduced downside risk in periods of negative market returns.

Income distributions for the last 12 months

Annual management fee

Allan Gray charges a fee based on the net asset value of the Fund excluding the portion invested in Orbis funds. The fee rate is calculated daily by comparing the Fund's total performance for the day to that of the benchmark.

Fee for performance equal to the Fund's benchmark: 1.00% p.a. excl. VAT

For each annualised percentage point above or below the benchmark we add or deduct 0.2%. The maximum fee is uncapped and if the fee would have been negative, 0% will be charged for the day and the negative fee will be carried forward to reduce the next day's fee (and all subsequent days until the underperformance is recovered).

This means that Allan Gray shares in approximately 20% of annualised performance relative to the benchmark.

A portion of the Fund may be invested in Orbis funds. Orbis charges performance-based fees within these funds that are calculated based on each Orbis fund's performance relative to its own benchmark. Orbis pays a marketing and distribution fee to Allan Gray.

Total expense ratio (TER) and Transaction costs

The annual management fees charged by both Allan Gray and Orbis are included in the TER. The TER is a measure of the actual expenses incurred by the Fund over a one and three-year period (annualised). Since Fund returns are quoted after deduction of these expenses, the TER should not be deducted from the published returns (refer to page 4 for further information). Transaction costs are disclosed separately.

10. The Fund can invest a maximum of 30% offshore, with an additional 10% allowed for investments in Africa outside of South Africa. Market movements periodically cause the Fund to move beyond these limits. This must be corrected within 12 months.

Note: There may be slight discrepancies in the totals due to rounding.

The Fund had a strong final quarter of 2020, returning 9.7%, which brings the return for the year to -0.2%. After losing 33% at the bottom in March, the FTSE/JSE All Share Index recovered to give a total return of 7% for 2020. At a sectoral level, you were much better off owning resources, which returned 21%, compared to financials, which lost 20%. International shares performed much better than domestic industrial shares and you were better off owning Richemont (up 22% and unfortunately not owned by the Fund) than British American Tobacco (a large overweight that was down 1%). This gets one thinking: If only you avoided the decline at the start of 2020, you could have earned 60% for the year from the low point. If you owned more resources at the expense of financials, or more Richemont than British American Tobacco, you would be better off. In general, anticipating changes in investor sentiment can be very rewarding. The problem is that it is very hard to do.

Take British American Tobacco (BTI) and Richemont as examples. If someone tipped you off a year ago that British American Tobacco would grow its earnings by double digits despite a pandemic, take significant market share in premium tobacco and reduced-risk products, such as vaping, and pay down debt on top of a generous dividend, one would have thought the sentiment would improve. It turns out that sentiment deteriorated in 2020, with the price-to-earnings (PE) ratio reducing from an already low level of 10 to 8. Richemont started 2020 on a high PE ratio of 28, suffered a significant reduction in earnings and still outperformed the stock market by 15% for the year. Even if you predicted the short-term fundamentals, you would have made the wrong conclusion since sentiment surprised. Mining stocks offer another example. Assuming you predicted a global pandemic would reduce GDP by the most since the Great Depression, few would have predicted that the resources sector was the place to be in 2020. The stock market as a whole is also interesting. At the low in March, a forecast of a rampant spread of COVID-19 and its devastating impact on economies would have been correct, but the stock market is already looking forward to a recovery, despite a much stronger second wave in most countries.

Do fundamentals matter? Over short periods of time a narrative around recent news flow tends to drive sentiment, whereas fundamentals matter in the long run. If BTI can grow its earnings at 10% p.a. over the next five years (which one could argue is conservative, since they have grown at 12% p.a. for the past 15 years) an investor would earn 14% p.a., even if the PE ratio falls from 8 to 6, since the dividend yield is 8% today. If the continued growth helps to improve sentiment towards the company, the PE ratio could go to 15 (still low for a high-quality consumer staple company), in which case a shareholder will earn 32% per year. British American Tobacco remains a large holding in the Fund.

We may make mistakes in our assessment of long-term company fundamentals, Sasol being a recent example, but we believe that buying companies at a discount to what they are worth, rather than trying to predict investor sentiment, is the surest way to create wealth for our clients.

During the quarter the Fund added to Sibanye-Stillwater, AngloGold Ashanti and FirstRand and sold Zambezi Platinum, Standard Bank and MultiChoice.

Performance

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts or funds) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Movements in exchange rates may also cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. The Management Company does not provide any guarantee regarding the capital or the performance of the Fund. Performance figures are provided by the Investment Manager and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested. Where annualised performance is mentioned, this refers to the average return per year over the period. Actual investor performance may differ as a result of the investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax.

Fund mandate

The Fund may be closed to new investments at any time in order to be managed according to its mandate. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The Fund may borrow up to 10% of its market value to bridge insufficient liquidity.

Unit price

Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the Fund including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the Fund divided by the number of units in issue. Forward pricing is used and fund valuations take place at approximately 16:00 each business day. Purchase and redemption requests must be received by the Management Company by 14:00 each business day to receive that day's price. Unit trust prices are available daily on www.allangray.co.za

Fees

Permissible deductions may include management fees, brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax (STT), auditor's fees, bank charges and trustee fees. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from Allan Gray.

Total expense ratio (TER) and Transaction costs

The total expense ratio (TER) is the annualised percentage of the Fund's average assets under management that has been used to pay the Fund's actual expenses over the past one and three-year periods. The TER includes the annual management fees that have been charged (both the fee at benchmark and any performance component charged), VAT and other expenses like audit and trustee fees. Transaction costs (including brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax [STT], STRATE and Investor Protection Levy and VAT thereon) are shown separately. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impact Fund returns. They should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. Since Fund returns are quoted after the deduction of these expenses, the TER and Transaction costs should not be deducted again from published returns. As unit trust expenses vary, the current TER cannot be used as an indication of future TERs. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. Instead, when investing, the investment objective of the Fund should be aligned with the investor's objective and compared against the performance of the Fund. The TER and other funds' TERs should then be used to evaluate whether the Fund performance offers value for money. The sum of the TER and Transaction costs is shown as the Total investment charge ('TIC').
