

Fund description and summary of investment policy

The Fund invests mainly in selected shares and it uses exchange-traded derivative contracts on stock market indices to substantially reduce its net equity exposure to within a range of 0-20%. As a result, the Fund's return depends on the level of short-term interest rates (implicit in the pricing of the sold futures contracts) and the performance of the Fund's selected shares relative to the stock market index. The Fund's return is therefore unlikely to be correlated with equity market returns. In addition, a portion of the Fund is typically invested in cash and margin deposits.

ASISA unit trust category: South African – Multi Asset – Low Equity

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to provide investors with long-term positive returns higher than those available in the money market sector, irrespective of stock market returns. The Fund's benchmark is the daily interest rate as supplied by FirstRand Bank Limited.

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

The Fund invests in selected shares and seeks to substantially reduce stock market risk by selling exchange-traded equity index derivatives. The selected share portfolio is derived from our thorough research process, but the selection of equities in this Fund may differ from that in the other Allan Gray funds. The deviation of the Fund's selected share portfolio from the composition of the underlying benchmark indices (on which the derivative contracts are based) is restricted and closely monitored. This does not eliminate the risk of capital loss should the selected equities underperform.

Suitable for those investors who

- Seek absolute (i.e. positive) returns regardless of stock market trends
- Require a high degree of capital stability over a 3-year time horizon

Meeting the Fund objective

Since inception and over the latest 10 year period, the Fund has outperformed its benchmark. Over the latest five-year period, the Fund has underperformed its benchmark, which is the daily interest rate supplied by FirstRand Bank Limited. The Fund aims to deliver long-term positive returns, irrespective of stock market returns.

Income distributions for the last 12 months

Annual management fee

The fee rate is calculated daily by comparing the Fund's total performance to that of the benchmark.

Fee for performance equal to the Fund's benchmark: 1.00% p.a. excl. VAT

The Fund is first required to recover any underperformance before a fee higher than the fee for performance equal to the benchmark can be charged. This is known as a high watermark. If the Fund's performance is above its previous high watermark, we add 0.2% to the fee for each percentage of performance above the high watermark. The fee is uncapped.

Total expense ratio (TER) and transaction costs

The annual management fee is included in the TER. The TER is a measure of the actual expenses incurred by the Fund over a one and three-year period (annualised). Since Fund returns are quoted after deduction of these expenses, the TER should not be deducted from the published returns (refer to page 4 for further information). Transaction costs are disclosed separately.

Since inception, the Fund's month-end net equity exposure has varied as follows:

Minimum	(September 2016) -3.6% <sup>7</sup>
Average	4.8%
Maximum	(November 2018) 15.4%

7. The negative net equity exposure as at 30 September 2016 is due to the cash acquisition of SABMiller by Anheuser-Busch In-Bev. This was corrected and the Fund had a positive net equity exposure by 4 October 2016.

Note: There may be slight discrepancies in the totals due to rounding.

The Fund returned -1.6% in the final quarter of 2022 and 6.3% for the full year. This compares to the 2022 returns on competing asset classes such as local bonds and cash of 4.3% and 4.2%, respectively.

After an extremely strong 2021, the FTSE/JSE All Share Index (ALSI) had a more muted year, returning 3.6%, notably below that of fixed income and cash. The headline equity return masks the significant volatility experienced during the year with the index down 10.1% year to date in late September. The subsequent rally in the ALSI, alongside that of other global indices, was driven by expectations, perhaps premature, of an eventual pivot in the restrictive monetary policy decisions enacted by central banks, as well as a reversal in the economically ruinous COVID-zero policies being implemented in China.

As a reminder, though, it is the performance of the Fund's underlying shares relative to the stock market index, together with the level of short-term interest rates, that determines the performance. The Fund's bearish positioning, both in terms of stock selection and net equity weight, which has added to the annual performance, proved to be a headwind in the final quarter.

Noteworthy contributors to relative performance during the year included our level of exposure to local banks, platinum group metal (PGM) producers and diversified miners. For the banks, earnings have largely returned to pre-COVID ranges, but in some cases the share price recovery is lagging. While sentiment towards the sector has improved, it cannot yet be termed overly optimistic, evidenced by low prevailing price-to-earnings multiples. Earnings are sensitive to economic conditions, which remain weak, but rising rates provide healthy support to interest margins. Lending has also probably erred on the conservative side in the recent past. The Fund's main exposure is to Nedbank, Standard Bank and Absa, with underweight positions in Capitec and FirstRand, premised on relative valuation.

Commodity prices have been impacted by countervailing forces of recession fears, Chinese lockdowns, the strong US dollar versus supply-side constraints, the effects of the Russia/Ukraine war and continued high inflation. Glencore was the largest contributor to the Fund's performance in 2022. Its thermal coal exposure and its large commodity trading arm are differentiators when compared to diversified mining peers, with conditions for both businesses proving ideal at points during the year. An argument exists that thermal coal prices may remain higher than considered normal for a typical cycle owing to prolonged underinvestment in coal mining and barriers to new fossil fuel production capacity in general. Within precious metals, the Fund ends the year overweight both gold and PGM miners.

Within industrials, underweight exposure to both Richemont and Naspers/Prosus relative to their large weightings in the index detracted from the Fund's performance in the last quarter. In our view, overweight exposure to companies such as British American Tobacco, AB InBev, Mondi and Sappi, which trade at more attractive prices relative to our assessment of their intrinsic values, offer better upside versus downside potential across a range of possible scenarios.

During the quarter, the Fund added to existing holdings in British American Tobacco, Naspers/Prosus and Sasol. A new position in The Foschini Group was initiated. The Fund reduced exposure to diversified and precious metal miners as well as Woolworths.

Performance

Collective investment schemes in securities (unit trusts or funds) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. The Management Company does not provide any guarantee regarding the capital or the performance of the Fund. Performance figures are provided by the Investment Manager and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested. Actual investor performance may differ as a result of the investment date, the date of reinvestment and applicable taxes.

Fund mandate

Funds may be closed to new investments at any time in order to be managed according to their mandates. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The funds may borrow up to 10% of their market value to bridge insufficient liquidity.

Unit price

Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the Fund, including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the Fund, divided by the number of units in issue. Forward pricing is used and fund valuations take place at approximately 16:00 each business day. Purchase and redemption requests must be received by the Management Company by 14:00 each business day to receive that day's price. Unit trust prices are available daily on www.allangray.co.za.

Fees

Permissible deductions may include management fees, brokerage, securities transfer tax, auditor's fees, bank charges and trustee fees. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from Allan Gray.

Total expense ratio (TER) and transaction costs

The total expense ratio (TER) is the annualised percentage of the Fund's average assets under management that has been used to pay the Fund's actual expenses over the past one- and three-year periods. The TER includes the annual management fees that have been charged (both the fee at benchmark and any performance component charged), VAT and other expenses like audit and trustee fees. Transaction costs (including brokerage, securities transfer tax, Share Transactions Totally Electronic (STRATE) and FSCA Investor Protection Levy and VAT thereon) are shown separately. Transaction costs are necessary costs in administering the Fund and impact Fund returns. They should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time, including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager, and the TER. Since Fund returns are quoted after the deduction of these expenses, the TER and transaction costs should not be deducted again from published returns. As unit trust expenses vary, the current TER cannot be used as an indication of future TERs. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. Instead, when investing, the investment objective of the Fund should be aligned with the investor's objective and compared against the performance of the Fund. The TER and other funds' TERs should then be used to evaluate whether the Fund performance offers value for money. The sum of the TER and transaction costs is shown as the total investment charge (TIC).
