Commentary

The Fund's aim is to provide a high level of capital stability. As a result, the Fund has a low equity exposure. After the significant rise in the South African equity market in recent months, it is likely that the Fund's equity exposure will be reduced from current levels. The Fund has a reasonable exposure to selected banking shares that are now offering good long-term value and attractive dividend yields. The trend towards lower dividend covers amongst South Africa's typically undergeared companies is also positive for the share component of the Fund. As indicated previously, following Reserve Bank approval, we took a portion of the assets offshore at what we believed was an attractive exchange rate. The Fund has a 10% exposure to foreign assets, of which only a third is invested in equities and the remaining two-thirds in absolute return funds.

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of participatory interests (units) may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future. Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total value of all assets in the portfolio including any income accrual and less any permissible deductions from the portfolio. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. A schedule of fees and charges and maximum commissions is available on request from Allan Gray Unit Trust Management Limited. Commission and incentives may be paid and if so, would be included in the overall costs. Forward pricing is used. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. All of the unit trusts may be capped at any time in order for them to be managed in accordance with their mandates. Member of the ACI.
