

Fund description and summary of investment policy

The Fund invests in a mix of shares, bonds, property, commodities and cash. The Fund can invest a maximum of 30% offshore, with an additional 10% allowed for investments in Africa outside of South Africa. The Fund typically invests the bulk of its foreign allowance in a mix of funds managed by Orbis Investment Management Limited, our offshore investment partner. The maximum net equity exposure of the Fund is 40%. The Fund's net equity exposure may be reduced from time to time using exchange-traded derivative contracts on stock market indices. The Fund is managed to comply with the investment limits governing retirement funds. Returns are likely to be less volatile than those of an equity-only fund or a balanced fund.

ASISA unit trust category: South African – Multi Asset – Low Equity

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to provide a high degree of capital stability and to minimise the risk of loss over any two-year period, while producing long-term returns that are superior to bank deposits. The Fund's benchmark is the daily interest rate, as supplied by FirstRand Bank Limited, plus 2%.

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

A major portion of the Fund is typically invested in money market instruments. We seek to deploy the Fund's cash by investing in shares when they can be bought at a significant discount to their intrinsic value. We thoroughly research companies to assess their intrinsic value from a long-term perspective. This long-term perspective enables us to buy shares which are shunned by the stock market because of their unexciting or poor short-term prospects, but which are relatively attractively priced if one looks to the long term. If the stock market offers few attractive shares, we may allocate a low weight to shares or partially hedge the Fund's stock market exposure in consideration of the Fund's capital preservation objectives. The Fund may also invest in bonds, property and commodities. The Fund's bond and money market investments are actively managed.

Suitable for those investors who

- Are risk-averse and require a high degree of capital stability
- Seek both above-inflation returns over the long term, and capital preservation over any two-year period
- Require some income but also some capital growth
- Wish to invest in a unit trust that complies with retirement fund investment limits

Annual management fee

Allan Gray charges a fee based on the net asset value of the Fund excluding the portion invested in Orbis funds. The fee rate is calculated daily by comparing the Fund's total performance over the last two years, to that of the benchmark. If the Fund's return over two years is equal to or less than 0%, Allan Gray will not charge a fee.

Fee for performance equal to the Fund's benchmark: 1.00% p.a. excl. VAT

For each percentage of two-year performance above or below the benchmark we add or deduct 0.1%, subject to the following limits:

Maximum fee: 1.50% p.a. excl. VAT

Minimum fee: 0.50% p.a. excl. VAT

This means that Allan Gray shares in approximately 20% of annualised performance relative to the benchmark.

A portion of the Fund may be invested in Orbis funds. Orbis charges performance-based fees within these funds that are calculated based on each Orbis fund's performance relative to its own benchmark. Orbis pays a marketing and distribution fee to Allan Gray.

Total expense ratio (TER) and Transaction costs

The annual management fees charged by both Allan Gray and Orbis are included in the TER. The TER is a measure of the actual expenses incurred by the Fund over a one and three-year period (annualised). Since Fund returns are quoted after deduction of these expenses, the TER should not be deducted from the published returns (refer to page 4 for further information). Transaction costs are disclosed separately.

10. The Fund can invest a maximum of 30% offshore, with an additional 10% allowed for investments in Africa outside of South Africa. Market movements periodically cause the Fund to move beyond these limits. This must be corrected within 12 months.

Since inception, the Fund's month-end net equity exposure has varied as follows:

Minimum	(January 2010) 12.4%
Average	25.7%
Maximum	(December 2018) 39.6%

Note: There may be slight discrepancies in the totals due to rounding.

The Stable Fund's performance over the past year has been disappointing. The Fund aims to achieve a real return in excess of cash with a high level of capital stability. At end September the Fund return was 0.7% compared to inflation at 3.1%. This recent underperformance has weighed on the longer-term Fund return with the three-year return now slightly below inflation.

The premise of the Fund construction is a large weighting towards cash and bonds for downside protection, with a modest allocation to equities to capture the equity risk premium and generate real returns. Equity weight varies on the relative attractiveness of shares at any given point, with share selection based on our bottom-up stockpicking process.

Table 1 shows the drivers of Fund performance for the last 12 months. The negative return from local equities has been a material detractor from the overall Fund return. In comparison, the FTSE/JSE Capped SWIX Index has returned -5% over the last year, recovering the bulk of the loss incurred in the sell-off in the first quarter of 2020. This recovery has been largely attributable to the large dual-listed and rand hedge companies, with the share prices of more domestically focused businesses still well below where they started the year.

The Fund's exposure to Sasol, banks and property shares represented the main detractors from local share performance. Of these positions, the Fund only meaningfully added to its bank exposure during the sell-off. The outlook for South Africa remains very uncertain and the Fund must position itself for different scenarios. Companies that are more geared to the local economy account for approximately 14% of Fund. In the event of a more favourable outcome for the country, we believe there is material upside to this exposure, as share prices revert to fair value.

Table 1: AGSF return drivers, 12 months to September 2020

	Weight	Return	Contribution
SA equity and property	25%	-18%	-5.1%
Offshore	29%	11%	3.4%
Local fixed interest	37%	5%	1.7%
Africa ex-SA	7%	8%	0.5%
Other	2%	12%	0.2%
	100%		0.7%

The 11% return from the Fund's offshore investments should be viewed in the context of the MSCI World Index returning 10% (in US$) and the rand weakening 11% over the last year. Similar to our experience locally, stock selection by our offshore partner Orbis has detracted from performance. The recovery in foreign stock markets, particularly in the US, has been driven by an increasingly narrow set of shares. Indeed, the top five shares in the S&P 500 dominate even more today than in 2000, at the height of the tech bubble. The collection of shares that Orbis is invested in looks very different from the headline stock indices. In their view, these companies have similar or better fundamentals than the wider market but trade at steep discounts, providing a greater margin of safety. Given the market's high starting valuation, this augurs well for future long-term outperformance.

The Fund's local fixed interest assets have added value relative to the 3.6% FTSE/JSE All Bond Index return in the past year. The most significant recent change in asset allocation has been a move out of local cash into bonds, owing to the relative attractiveness of returns on offer. The difference between short- and long-term interest rates is at historic levels, reflecting the rapid deterioration in South Africa's finances and doubts on whether the government can salvage a measure of fiscal discipline. We are cognisant of the risks, and while the Fund has increased its duration, we continue to tread with caution. The fixed interest exposure includes an allocation to inflation-linked bonds, which should generate a return in excess of the Fund objective, with a return profile that does not correlate with that of equities or nominal bonds, providing diversification.

During the quarter the Fund added to British American Tobacco, Remgro and NewGold ETF and sold Aspen, Coronation and Momentum Metropolitan.

Performance

Collective Investment Schemes in Securities (unit trusts or funds) are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Movements in exchange rates may also cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. The Management Company does not provide any guarantee regarding the capital or the performance of the Fund. Performance figures are provided by the Investment Manager and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested. Where annualised performance is mentioned, this refers to the average return per year over the period. Actual investor performance may differ as a result of the investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax.

Fund mandate

The Fund may be closed to new investments at any time in order to be managed according to its mandate. Unit trusts are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The Fund may borrow up to 10% of its market value to bridge insufficient liquidity.

Unit price

Unit trust prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is the total market value of all assets in the Fund including any income accruals and less any permissible deductions from the Fund divided by the number of units in issue. Forward pricing is used and fund valuations take place at approximately 16:00 each business day. Purchase and redemption requests must be received by the Management Company by 14:00 each business day to receive that day's price. Unit trust prices are available daily on www.allangray.co.za

Fees

Permissible deductions may include management fees, brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax (STT), auditor's fees, bank charges and trustee fees. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from Allan Gray.

Total expense ratio (TER) and Transaction costs

The total expense ratio (TER) is the annualised percentage of the Fund's average assets under management that has been used to pay the Fund's actual expenses over the past one and three-year periods. The TER includes the annual management fees that have been charged (both the fee at benchmark and any performance component charged), VAT and other expenses like audit and trustee fees. Transaction costs (including brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax [STT], STRATE and Investor Protection Levy and VAT thereon) are shown separately. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impact Fund returns. They should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of financial product, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. Since Fund returns are quoted after the deduction of these expenses, the TER and Transaction costs should not be deducted again from published returns. As unit trust expenses vary, the current TER cannot be used as an indication of future TERs. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. Instead, when investing, the investment objective of the Fund should be aligned with the investor's objective and compared against the performance of the Fund. The TER and other funds' TERs should then be used to evaluate whether the Fund performance offers value for money. The sum of the TER and Transaction costs is shown as the Total investment charge ('TIC').

The Fund is managed to comply with Regulation 28 of the Pension Funds Act. Exposures in excess of the limits will be corrected immediately, except where due to a change in the fair value or characteristic of an asset, e.g. market value fluctuations, in which case they will be corrected within a reasonable time period. The Management Company does not monitor compliance by retirement funds with section 19(4) of the Pension Funds Act (item 6 of Table 1 to Regulation 28).
