Fund description

The Fund invests in a focused portfolio of companies with significant business interests in Africa, regardless of the location of the stock exchange listing. The Fund price is reported in US dollars but the underlying holdings are denominated in various currencies. Returns are likely to be volatile.

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to outperform African equity markets over the long term without taking on greater risk of loss. The Fund's benchmark is the MSCI Emerging and Frontier Markets (EFM) Africa Index (total returns).

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

We invest in shares that we believe offer superior fundamental value while taking into account risk and return. We research companies and assess their intrinsic value based on long-term fundamentals; we then invest in businesses where our assessment of intrinsic value exceeds the share price by a margin of safety. This approach allows us to identify shares that may be out of favour with the market because of poor near-term prospects, but offer good value over the long-term. The Fund's holdings will deviate meaningfully from those in the index both in terms of individual holdings and sector exposure.

Suitable for those investors who

- Seek exposure to African equities
- Are comfortable with stock market and currency fluctuations
- Are prepared to take the risk of capital loss
- Typically have an investment horizon of more than five years

The Fund is not available to South African residents.

Minimum investment amounts

Minimum initial investment: US$50 000
Minimum subsequent investment: US$1 000

Annual management fee

The annual management fee ranges from 0.5% to 2.5% depending on the relative return of the Fund to the benchmark, before fees. The fee is calculated on a base of 1.5% plus one twenty-fifth of the cumulative three-year relative performance, subject to a floor of 0.5% and cap of 2.5%. For example if the cumulative three year performance of the fund is 20% and that of the benchmark is 15%, the fee rate is: 1.5% + (20% - 15%)/25 = 1.7%.

Subscription and redemption charge

Investors are charged 0.5% when transacting in Fund shares, both on subscription and redemption. This is paid into the Fund to offset the costs associated with the transaction that are borne by the Fund. Allan Gray International Proprietary Limited may waive this charge in the case of significant offsetting flows.

1. The Fund is currently priced in US dollars. Since inception to 30 April 2012 the Fund was priced in South African rands.
2. The current benchmark is the MSCI EFM Africa Index (total returns). Since inception to 30 April 2012 the benchmark was the FTSE/ISE All Share Index including income. Performance as calculated by Allan Gray as at 31 January 2015 (source: Bloomberg). Calculation based on the latest available data as supplied by third parties.
3. Maximum percentage decline over any period. The maximum drawdown occurred from October 2007 to February 2009 and maximum benchmark drawdown occurred from October 2007 to February 2009. Drawdown is calculated on the total return of the Fund/benchmark (i.e. including income).
4. The percentage of calendar months in which the Fund produced a positive monthly return since inception.
5. The standard deviation of the Fund's monthly return. This is a measure of how much an investment's return varies from its average over time.

Fund manager quarterly commentary as at 31 December 2014

The Fund had a good start to the year but unfortunately a very poor second half. The biggest detractors were the oil companies I discussed in September and our Nigerian bank exposure. These shares have halved in price over the past six months. The decline in the oil price from US$110 per barrel (bbl) to the current US$57/bbl is clearly the underlying reason. The performance relative to the MSCI Emerging and Frontier Markets Africa Index (the Index) was also disappointing. The Index had a strong year as the largest weightings are to the broader South African industrial shares, which performed very well. We think the South African industrials are generally very overvalued and have almost no exposure to the sector.

In our valuations we estimate the normal oil price to be US$85/bbl, below the US$105/bbl that prevailed in the early part of the year, but well above current levels. Market commentators have turned very negative on the outlook for oil as demand has disappointed and production growth surprised on the upside. Forecasts are for supply to increase further into the first half of 2015. Fortunately, financial markets being what they are, this oversupply situation is likely already in the price. We focus on the long-term price outlook rather than attempting to make short-term predictions. Our assumption is that a price below US$85/bbl will discourage capital investment to a point where supply and demand move back into balance.

At over US$100/bbl, the oil price of the past three years has encouraged the oil industry to make huge capital investments. Most companies have spent all their cash flow and have borrowed to fund projects. The lower oil price will reduce both the operating cash flows that are available for investment and the willingness of lenders to fund projects. Despite the oil price having been below US$80/bbl for only a few weeks, the major oil companies have already announced cuts to their capital budgets.

We are comfortable that at current oil prices, let alone our normal estimate of US$85/bbl, the oil companies we own offer compelling value. The Nigerian economy is a more complex proposition. Oil revenues account for almost all government revenue and exports receipts. As these receipts decline the economic situation will become very difficult for Nigerian corporates. There is huge uncertainty regarding how this will play out for the banks, which lend to these companies and the

Share price

Share prices are calculated on a net asset value basis, which is calculated by dividing the value of the net assets of the Fund attributable to the shares by the number of shares in issue. The weekly price of the Fund is normally calculated each Friday based on the prices of the underlying investments prevailing at 5:30pm Bermuda time on the previous business day. Purchase requests must be received by the Registrar of the Fund (being Citi Fund Services (Bermuda), Ltd.) by 5:00pm Bermuda time on that dealing day to receive that week's price. Redemption requests must be received by the Registrar of the Fund by 12 noon Bermuda time on that dealing day to receive that week's price.

Performance

Investments in Collective Investment Schemes are generally medium- to long-term investments. The value of shares may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Performance figures are from Allan Gray International Proprietary Limited and are for lump sum investments with income distributions reinvested.

oil industry. The market is pricing in these risks and most of the banks are trading well below book value and at between three and five times historic earnings. The banks are well capitalised and have survived very difficult periods in the past. On a risk-adjusted basis they look to offer very good value at these levels.
