Fund description

The Fund invests in a focused portfolio of companies with significant business interests in Africa (excluding South Africa), regardless of the location of the stock exchange listing. The Fund price is reported in US dollars but the underlying holdings are denominated in various currencies. Returns are likely to be volatile.

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to outperform African equity markets over the long term without taking on greater risk of loss. The Fund's benchmark is the Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index.

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

We invest in shares that we believe offer superior fundamental value while taking into account risk and return. We research companies and assess their intrinsic value based on long-term fundamentals; we then invest in businesses where our assessment of intrinsic value exceeds the share price by a margin of safety. This approach allows us to identify shares that may be out of favour with the market because of poor near-term prospects, but offer good value over the long-term. The Fund's holdings will deviate meaningfully from those in the index both in terms of individual holdings and sector exposure.

Suitable for those investors who

- Seek exposure to African equities
- Are comfortable with stock market and currency fluctuations
- Are prepared to take on the risk of capital loss
- Typically have an investment horizon of more than five years

Minimum investment amounts

Minimum initial investment: US$50 000
 Minimum subsequent investment: US$1 000

Annual management fee

The management fee consists of a fixed fee and a performance fee component. The fixed fee is charged at a rate of 1% per year. The performance fee is 20% of the extent to which the Fund outperforms the benchmark, after the fixed fee is deducted and subject to the Fund exceeding the 'high watermark'. The high watermark is the maximum ratio the Fund's net asset value per share, including distributions, has achieved relative to the benchmark since the Fund's inception.

Subscription and redemption charge

Investors are charged 1% when transacting in Fund shares, both on subscription and redemption. This is paid into the Fund to offset the costs associated with the transaction that are borne by the Fund. Allan Gray International Proprietary Limited may waive this charge in the case of significant offsetting flows.

Capacity

The Fund currently has limited capacity. The Investment Manager may, at its discretion, refuse a subscription or phase a subscription into the Fund over a number of dealing days. The Investment Manager may at its discretion limit redemptions to US$5m or 2.5% of the Fund (whichever is less) per dealing day.

2. Maximum percentage decline over any period. The maximum drawdown occurred from February 2012 to May 2012 and maximum benchmark drawdown occurred from January 2013 to June 2013. Drawdown is calculated on the total return of the Fund/benchmark (i.e. including income).
3. The percentage of calendar months in which the Fund produced a positive monthly return since inception.
4. The standard deviation of the Fund's monthly return. This is a measure of how much an investment's return varies from its average over time.

Fund manager quarterly commentary as at 31 December 2013

Market commentators often talk of Africa as if it is a single market. However, 2013 proved once again that each of the African markets and equities within those markets have their own drivers and fundamentals and must be assessed on their own merits. The overall index moves in the three large markets were all positive: the Nigerian and Kenyan markets rose 40% and 41% respectively, while the Egyptian market gained 12% in dollars. However, the gains in both the Kenyan and the Nigerian markets were not particularly broad based. In Kenya, Safaricom, which accounts for 21% of the market, doubled, and in Nigeria, Dangote Cement, 30% of the Nigerian All Share Index, rose 80%. Stripping out the Dangote Cement move, the index gained 22%, rather than the headline-grabbing 40%. This adjustment is appropriate as the Dangote free float is only 5%. Similar to 2012, the performances of the smaller markets were mixed. The Moroccan and Tunisian markets were basically flat, while Mauritius rose 21% and Zimbabwe 32%. The performance of the Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index was dragged down by the exposure to basic materials shares listed in the UK, Australia and Canada.

Since its launch in January 2012, the Fund has been underweight Nigerian shares when compared to the size and liquidity of the Nigerian market. The reason for this underweight position is that we have found only a few Nigerian shares that we think offer good value to investors. The majority of the Fund's Nigerian position is in financials. The Nigerian banks we own trade, on average, at a small premium to tangible book value and generate a 20% return on equity. This looks to be good value once the risks and possible downward pressure on banking profits are considered. We have added to the Nigerian bank holdings over the past quarter, as the share prices have declined and we have gained more confidence in the earnings' sustainability. The Fund only owns one Nigerian consumer company as these businesses are generally priced for rapid earnings growth on what seems to be already-high earnings.
