Fund description and summary of investment policy

The Fund invests in a focused portfolio of companies with significant business interests in Africa (excluding South Africa), regardless of the location of the stock exchange listing. The Fund price is reported in US dollars but the underlying holdings are denominated in various currencies. Returns are likely to be volatile.

Fund objective and benchmark

The Fund aims to outperform African equity markets over the long term without taking on greater risk of loss. The Fund's benchmark is the Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index. The Fund does not seek to mirror the benchmark but instead may deviate meaningfully from this performance benchmark in pursuit of superior returns. To the extent that its investments differ from those in the benchmark, the Fund faces the risk of underperforming the benchmark.

How we aim to achieve the Fund's objective

We invest in shares that we believe offer superior fundamental value while taking into account risk and return. We research companies and assess their intrinsic value based on long-term fundamentals; we then invest in businesses where our assessment of intrinsic value exceeds the share price by a margin of safety. This approach allows us to identify shares that may be out of favour with the market because of poor near-term prospects, but offer good value over the long-term. The Fund's holdings will deviate meaningfully from those in the index both in terms of individual holdings and sector exposure.

Suitable for those investors who

- Seek exposure to African equities
- Are comfortable with stock market and currency fluctuations
- Are prepared to take on the risk of capital loss
- Typically have an investment horizon of more than five years

Minimum investment amounts

Minimum initial investment: US$50 000
Minimum subsequent investment: US$1 000

Capacity

The Fund currently has limited capacity. The Investment Manager may, at its discretion, refuse a subscription or phase a subscription into the Fund over a number of dealing days. The Investment Manager may at its discretion limit redemptions to US$5m or 2.5% of the Fund (whichever is less) per dealing day.

Subscription and redemption charge

Investors are charged 1% when transacting in Fund shares, both on subscription and redemption. This is paid into the Fund to offset the costs associated with the transaction that are borne by the Fund. Allan Gray International Proprietary Limited may waive this charge in the case of significant offsetting flows.

Annual management fee and total expense ratio (TER)

The management fee consists of a fixed fee and a performance fee component. The fixed fee is charged at a rate of 1% per year. The performance fee is 20% of the extent to which the Fund outperforms the benchmark, after the fixed fee is deducted and subject to the Fund exceeding the 'high watermark'. The high watermark is the maximum ratio the Fund's net asset value per share, including distributions, has achieved relative to the benchmark since the Fund's inception.

1. Standard Bank Africa Total Return Index (source: Standard Bank), performance as calculated by Allan Gray as at 30 April 2015. Calculation based on the latest available data as supplied by third parties.
2. Maximum percentage decline over any period. The maximum drawdown occurred from August 2014 to January 2015 and maximum benchmark drawdown occurred from July 2014 to March 2015. Drawdown is calculated on the total return of the Fund/benchmark (i.e. including income).
3. The percentage of calendar months in which the Fund produced a positive monthly return since inception.
4. The standard deviation of the Fund's monthly return. This is a measure of how much an investment's return varies from its average over time.
5. This is the highest or lowest consecutive 12 month returns the Fund has experienced since inception, along with the benchmark performance for the corresponding period. This is a measure of how much the Fund's returns have varied per rolling 12 month period. The highest annual return occurred from 1 June 2012 to 31 May 2013 and the lowest annual return occurred from 1 May 2014 to 30 April 2015. All rolling 12 month figures for the Fund and the benchmark are available from the Allan Gray Service Team on request.

TER breakdown for the year ending 31 March 2015

Fund manager quarterly commentary as at 31 March 2015

Similar to the last six months of 2014, the first quarter of 2015 was a difficult one for the Fund. We believe we are invested in very attractively priced companies and have been accumulating these holdings as the share prices decline. An unfortunate aspect of the past period is that we have been, and continue to be, underweight Kenya, while the Kenyan market has rallied sharply. Our philosophy is to identify undervalued companies on a bottom-up basis. In the past the Fund has had substantial Kenyan holdings, but we sold these when the share prices exceeded our fair value estimates. Investors are now very positive on Kenya and have priced this positive sentiment into company valuations – in our view, to an excessive degree. On the other hand, investors are very negative on Nigeria and Zimbabwe, which we think creates an opportunity, similar to when the market disliked Kenya in late 2011 and early 2012.

In 2012 we owned Safaricom, the dominant Kenyan mobile operator, when the share was trading at KES3.20 and the market was in a difficult place. Safaricom's dominance is now plain to see and the M-PESA mobile money platform is quickly coming to dominate the payment space in Kenya. Unfortunately we sold our Safaricom some time ago and the share price is now KES17.05. Safaricom trades on 25 times historic earnings and 10 times enterprise value to earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortisation (EV/EBITDA). We think the market has priced in the majority of the potential growth and we cannot justify this valuation. However, we have a large holding in Econet Wireless, Zimbabwe's dominant mobile operator. Sentiment is obviously poor towards Zimbabwe – and for good reason. We think Econet could have the success that Safaricom has had in mobile money as all the prerequisites are in place. This potential is not priced into Econet's share price, which trades on eight times earnings and three times EV/EBITDA.

The valuation discrepancies between the Nigerian and Kenyan banks are similarly stark. We have sold all our Kenyan bank exposure and almost all of the Fund's financial exposure is to Nigerian banks.

Please read our latest GrayIssue, which contrasts Nigerian and Kenyan bank valuations, available on the 'Latest news' page of www.allangray.co.za.

Fees and charges

Permissible deductions from the Fund may include management fees, brokerage, Securities Transfer Tax (STT), auditor's fees, bank charges and custody fees. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request from the Representative.

Total expense ratio (TER)

The total expense ratio (TER) is the percentage of the Fund's average assets under management that has been used to pay the Fund's actual expenses over the past year. The TER includes the annual management fees that have been charged (both the fee at benchmark and any performance component charged), trading costs (including brokerage, STT and investor protection levies where applicable), VAT and other expenses. Since Fund returns are quoted after deduction of these expenses, the TER should not be deducted from the published returns. As collective investment scheme expenses vary, the current TER cannot be used as an indication of future TERs. A higher TER ratio does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. Instead, when investing, the investment objective of the Fund should be aligned with the investor's objective and compared against the performance of the Fund. The TER and other funds' TERs should then be used to evaluate whether the Fund performance offers value for money.

Foreign exposure

There are significant risks involved in investing in shares listed in the Fund's universe of emerging and developing countries including liquidity risks, sometimes aggravated by rapid and large outflows of 'hot money' and capital flight, concentration risk, currency risks, political and social instability, the possibility of expropriation, confiscatory taxation or nationalisation of assets and the establishment of foreign exchange controls which may include the suspension of the ability to transfer currency from a given country.

The Fund can use derivatives to manage its exposure to stock markets, currencies and/or interest rates and this exposes the Fund to contractual risk. Contractual risk includes the risk that a counterparty will not settle a transaction according to its terms and conditions because of a dispute over the terms of the contract (whether or not bona fide) or because of a credit or liquidity problem, causing the Fund to suffer a loss. Such contract counterparty risk is accentuated for contracts with longer maturities where events may intervene to prevent settlement, or where the Fund has concentrated its transactions with a single or small group of counterparties. Borrowing, leveraging, and trading securities on margin will result in interest charges and, depending on the amount of trading activity, such charges could be substantial. The low margin deposits normally required in futures and forward trading, which the Fund may utilise, permit a high degree of leverage. As a result, a relatively small price movement in a futures or forward contract may result in immediate and substantial losses to the investor.
