Commentary

Your Fund gained 12.1% in April, bringing the year-to-date performance to a 0.4% loss. Strong stockpicking performance in April has brought the Fund's return roughly in line with the 1.3% year-to-date loss of the benchmark TOPIX Index. After doing particularly poorly last year, export-oriented shares, where the Fund is notably underweight, have bounced significantly on weakness in the yen and on signs that the global economy might be bottoming. The export-oriented stocks in the Fund, such as Elpida, NOK and IBIDEN, have done relatively well, compensating the underperformance from the Fund's underweighting in exporters. We have been encouraged by the recent strong relative performance of domestic-oriented sectors, where the Fund is heavily weighted. Not only would continued strength in these sectors contribute to the Fund's relative performance, but such a rotation of market leadership among sectors is often considered a sign of a healthy bull market.
